The Landing of The Pilgrims

and the Landing
of The Marines

Plymouth Rock and the Bougainville beaches are 323 years apart, but there is a strange similarity on this Thanksgiving between the landings of the Pilgrims and of the Marines. The Pilgrims knew danger and death might lie ahead, but they had the courage to carry out their fight to establish a colony free from oppression. Similar courage guides the Marines and other U. S. fighters in their struggle to free the world from tyranny. The contrast between the Pilgrims' Mayflower and the Marines' LST boats is a bit more marked. The Pilgrims actually reached the shores of America in 1620, and after a year of trials, paused in their labors to give thanks. In the traditional manner, American fighting men the world over will pause briefly in their battle to observe 1943's Thanksgiving.

Russians Forced to Withdraw for Third Day in Kiev Battle

Score Advances in Bend of Dneiper River and in Rechitsa Area

BULLETIN
London, Nov. 24—(AP)—The German radio asserted tonight that Brusilov, 45 miles west of Kiev, and Chernyakhov, 20 miles north of Zhitomir, had been recaptured in the violent Nazi counter attack against the Ukrainian bulge.

The Russian communique last midnight said German attacks had carried "into the area of both towns. Chernyakhov is on the Odessa-Leningrad railway south of Russian-held Korosten."

Moscow, Nov. 24—(AP)—The German army's ten-day-old counter-offensive in the Ukraine moved closer to Kiev today after Russian forces had made their third withdrawal in three days under pressure of heavy tank and infantry assaults.

Spearheads of Field Marshal Fritz Von Manstein's troops have reached Brusilov, 45 miles west of Kiev and are almost half way to the Ukrainian capital from Zhitomir, the first city to fall before the German drive.

Von Manstein sent in other strong forces against Russian positions in the Chernyakhov area, 40 miles northwest of Brusilov, in his all-out effort to turn the southern flank of Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's First Ukrainian army.

To Avoid Encirclement
Although the Germans succeeded in gaining ground on a straight west-to-east line through the Zhitomir-Korosten-Brusilov sectors, the Red army appeared to be holding strong positions in front of Kiev, and apparently was falling back under orders from the Russian high command mainly to avoid encirclement of its advance units.

The Germans paid heavily for their successes in the Kiev bulge, a Russian communique said. Fierce hand-to-hand fighting and savage gun duels cost them more than 100 tanks and 2,000 dead, the bulletin declared, and 19 Nazi planes were shot down as Red army airmen struck massed blows at the advancing foe. Von Manstein was reported throwing large reserve forces into the battle.

THE WAR TODAY

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.

(This column, conducted as a daily feature by Dewitt MacKenzie, is written today in his absence by J. M. Roberts, Jr.)

Winter Weather, dire enemy of the Nazis in the east, has turned against them in the west as well. Through ice-forming clouds which kept Berlin's defensive fighters out of the air, the RAF has repaid the Luftwaffe for all it could do to London and now is piling on the interest.

It was Hitler who promised to repay Britain with hundreds of pounds of explosives for each pound dropped on Germany, but it is the RAF which has carried to Berlin 10,000 tons of bombs this year, as compared with the 7,500

Miners Not Interested in Contract With Only Half of Mining Industry

Washington, Nov. 24—(AP)—Operators producing about 50 per cent of the nation's soft coal have offered the United Mine Workers a contract that is substantially acceptable, but union chief John L. Lewis declared today the miners are "not interested" in an agreement with half the industry.

Refusal of the Southern Coal Producers Association to sign on a portal-to-portal basis and the absence of the captive (steel company) mine operators from the wage conference appeared to be the principal obstacles to a contract that would be virtually national in scope.

Conferees agreed to resume their discussions forthwith.

Senate Compromise on Subsidies Hope of Administration

House Outlaws Payments After First of Year by 278-to-118 Vote

Washington, Nov. 24—(AP)—Administration leaders clung to the gossamer-like possibility of a senate compromise today as their only hope of saving food subsidies—the president's No. 1 weapon against rising living costs.

"We're down to the bed-rock issue: Either we want inflation or we don't want it," said Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) as the house

2 Little Children, Mother Die in Fire

Chicago, Nov. 24—(AP)—A mother and two small children burned to death and the father suffered serious burns early today when fire destroyed a home in suburban Oaklawn.

This was the second such tragedy in the south suburban area in 24 hours. Yesterday six children of the John Hoogewoning family burned to death when their home near Chicago Heights was reduced to ashes.

The dead in today's fire were Mary L. Monreal, 2, who perished in her crib in the first floor bedroom of the flaming house; and her mother, Mrs. Anna Fran-

American Invaders Past Crucial Stage in Gilbert Action

Admiral Nimitz Hopeful Japanese Fleet Will Show Up for Fight

Pearl Harbor, Nov. 24—(AP)—American forces, overpowering savage Japanese resistance with record speed, were so firmly implanted today in the heart of the Equatorial Gilberts on the fifth day of the invasion that Adm. Chester W. Nimitz spoke confidently of "preparing to make further attacks."

"The Gilberts now are securely in our hands" said the commander-in-chief of the Pacific Fleet after only one of the more than 15 atolls had been completely conquered and while two others tottered toward a fall.

The plain implication of the Admiral was that from Makin, Tarawa and Abemama the invaders are in position to dominate and rout what Japanese troops may be on other nearby islands.

Makin has been captured. Lt. Col. James Roosevelt, eldest son of the president, was on hand for its fall.

Tarawa, with a fine bomber base whose importance was emphasized by the fierce defense of an estimated 4,000 Japanese, is about to fall. The enemy forces have been pushed to the eastern shore of the main island of Betio. Many have been slain, few captured.

Abemama is being mopped up.

New "Road to Tokyo"
Admiral Nimitz, asserting the brilliantly coordinated victory of Army, Marine, Navy and Coast Guard services "opens another road to Tokyo," said his forces were prepared for any eventualities.

Tokyo radio, gravely reporting to the Japanese people that "a part of our territory has been exposed to fierce battles," speculated on the inevitability of decisive action by the long-hidden Nipponese fleet.

Admiral Nimitz expressed belief that the Japanese fleet was dispersed from the Kuriles, to the north of Japan, all the way to the Dutch East Indies far to the south; that recent air blows struck at Rabaul, New Britain, against enemy cruisers and destroyers seriously had impaired enemy naval ability to retaliate in the area; and, even if Japanese units were within striking distance, the Nipponese admirals had held back in fear that the Gilbert invasion might be a diversionary feint.

Nimitz foresaw violent Japanese reaction by planes and submarines from the nearby Marshalls.

Nimitz Is Confident

Nimitz is confident of progress against Japan's defense perimeter in the Pacific, but believes that the Japanese eventually will be defeated from China.

"China with its reservoirs of manpower, potential airfields and proximity to Japan is one of the steps along the road to Tokyo," the commander in chief of U. S. forces in the Pacific said yesterday in an interview.

American forces have closed their fists on the Gilbert islands in the central Pacific, but the admiral indicated the Japanese fleet which has made no apparent attempt to contact the United States fleet, may yet accept an engagement.

"We may expect some major action in the Pacific," he said. "The possibility must be kept in mind and we must constantly be prepared for it. So long as Japan's main fleet units are intact it behooves us to maintain strength to insure such an engagement will come out favorably from our forces."

"We must not disperse our fleet to permit the Japs to concentrate"

Chicagoan Who Had Sister Put in Hospital Called

Louis Trevison, of Chicago, has been subpoenaed to appear in the Lee county Circuit court Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock to testify in the habeas corpus action which occupied almost two days in hearings conducted Friday and Saturday, in which his sister seeks to obtain her release from the Dixon state hospital. She was committed from the Municipal court in Chicago in October, 1934 as being feeble minded, the brother making the complaint, according to testimony taken at the recent hearing.

Judge George C. Dixon who presided at the hearing ordered that the brother be present in court to testify in his action to declare his sister a feeble minded person and State's Attorney M. C. Pires, who is opposing the release, has subpoenaed Trevison to be present. At the first request, Trevison is reported to have asked a 30 day continuance of the hearing, but Judge Dixon ordered that he be present to testify Friday afternoon.

At the hearing last week, the young woman testified that she had been paroled from the Dixon state hospital to a family in Polo where she was employed for about one year and received a weekly allowance of four dollars. From this sum she paid a dental bill, an optician's bill, the balance of a bill for an operation and maintained herself. At her request, she was taken from the Polo home and placed in a Dixon residence where she performed the duties of a housemaid and was paid the sum of five dollars weekly. Both of her employers appeared at the hearing and testified that the young woman was not feeble minded. Attorney A. G. Harris is appearing for the Trevison woman.

Chicago Market Stock Show Opens Monday in Chicago Stock Yards

Chicago, Nov. 24—(AP)—Fourteen states and Canada will have exhibits at the Chicago market fat stock and carlot competition, opening next Monday at the Chicago Stock Yards as a war time substitute for the regular International Livestock Exposition. A total of 4,443 head of cattle will be exhibited.

Competition at the show, which will continue through Dec. 2, will consist of individually shown steers, lambs and hogs as well as carload lots of cattle, sheep and swine. The individual animals will be shown in two divisions, the open classes for adult exhibitors and junior classes, featuring animals shown by farm boys and girls. The junior show will be judged Monday and the open classes Tuesday, with first and second prize winners in the former division eligible to open competition for the steer grand championship. The grand champion steer will be selected Tuesday.

In the individual classes, there are 1,201 entries compared to 1,178 head last year. The open class entries of cattle, sheep, and swine total 654 head and the junior show will comprise 547 entries.

In conjunction with the market show, 22 national livestock associations will hold their annual meetings, and two large purchased cattle sales will be held at the yards.

Bronx Women Storm Market for Turkey; Police Called Out

New York, Nov. 24—(AP)—A police detail was called out today to control a crowd of 300 Bronx housewives storming a market where turkeys were reported to be available.

The women, crowding the steel doors of the market, were lined up by police and permitted to enter two-by-two.

Meanwhile, throughout the city, butchers hung "no turkey" signs in their windows.

Faced with the scarcity, many New Yorkers planned to have their dinners tomorrow in restaurants. They were advised by the state Food Merchants' Association to arrive at their favorite eating places early "to avoid the lines."

Turkeys, however, were on the bills of fare of most public eating places, with the prices of the dinners pegged at from $1.45 in the chain restaurants to $4 in the more exclusive places.

Official Report on Patton Incident is Sought by Senate

Committee Unanimous in Request Sec. Stimson Reveal All Facts

Washington, Nov. 24—(AP)—The senate military affairs committee voted unanimously today to request Secretary of War Stimson to report to it officially on the incident in which Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., commander of the Seventh Army, struck an Army private in a hospital in Sicily.

Chairman Reynolds (D-NC) said he had been instructed to obtain a report by Stimson in connection with the committee's consideration of President Roosevelt's nomination of Patton, who now has the permanent rank of colonel, to hold the permanent rank of major general.

The action was taken, Reynolds said, at the suggestion of Senators Bridges (R-NH) and Johnson (D-Colo.) and was concurred in by all members present.

Reynolds told a reporter that he personally believed any action against Patton, who was rebuked by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, should be left in the hands of Army authorities. He said, however, that there is likely to be much senate discussion of the affair before action is taken on Patton's promotion.

"I think a general can get just as war-weary and develop just as frayed nerves as a private soldier and there may have been some extenuating circumstances in General Patton's case that we don't know about," Reynolds said. "However, I agree with the majority that the committee ought to have an official report on the case before it acts on the nomination."

To Senate Oct. 1st.

The nomination was sent to the senate October 1, more than a month after the incident in Sicily. This would indicate that Roosevelt attached no lasting significance to the affair if he knew about it at the time.

The house also received a demand for an investigation by its military committee. Rep. Hoeven (R-Iowa) asked the inquiry, saying an American Legion post in his district had requested the action.

Hoeven read to the house a

Boy Falls on Steps; Trampled to Death

Chicago, Nov. 24—(AP)—John P. Madigan, 14-year-old student at St. Rita's high school, was trampled to death and two other students were injured seriously yesterday when they fell before an onrushing group of freshmen descending a short flight of stairs in the school building after being dismissed from chapel.

The injured youths, both 14, were taken to Holy Cross hospital with Madigan who died shortly after he was admitted. They were James Lesko, possible skull fracture, and Rudolph Cizmar, possible internal injuries.

Acting Capt. Barth Moran of the Chicago Lawn police station said the three boys were trampled by many students pushed forward by classmates from the rear of the crowd who were unable to see that anyone had fallen to the bottom of the steps.

Congress Ready to Begin Planning for Mustering-Out Pay Legislation

Washington, Nov. 24—(AP)—President Roosevelt's request for early enactment of legislation to provide mustering-out pay, unemployment compensation and other benefits for the veterans of this war struck a responsive chord in congress today.

Senators Wagner of New York and George of Georgia, Democrats, announced they would introduce this week, bills embodying the president's requests, and Chairman May (D-Ky) said he would call the house military committee together soon to work out "a comprehensive and thorough program."

Among the bills already before May's committee are measures to broaden the soldiers' and sailors' civil relief act and to provide for

Retrospect

New York, Nov. 24—(AP)—Rear Admiral Thomas L. Gatch, Judge Advocate of the Navy, told a graduating class of midshipmen today that "if General Pershing had had his way an American Army would have marched through Berlin down Unter Den Linden and you young men would not be facing me today in uniform."

Speaking to 970 graduates at the U. S. Naval Reserve school at Columbia University, Admiral Gatch said that "shameful misuse" was made of the allied victory in the last war and that each disarmament conference and treaty following the armistice was "another step toward war."

"I do not advocate," he said "that we march an American Army down the main street of Tokyo—whatever its heathenish name may be—I merely advocate that when this war is over there will be no main street of Tokyo left to march down."

Weather Continues to Slow Up Allies on Italian Fronts

Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Nov. 24—(AP)—The British Eighth Army surged forward six miles into enemy positions in the central portion of the Italian front to capture the village of Angelo, only half a mile from the upper Sangro river, and occupied the deserted and devastated mountain town of Alfedena, allied headquarters announced today.

The capture of Alfedena, approximately 79 airline miles southwest of Rome on the road to the Italian capital, was the result of a gain of more than five miles beyond Ronero in recent days during which Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's troops pushed the Germans off high ground, dominating the town from the southeast, in a series of brisk clashes.

Simultaneously, heavy artillery duels flared on part of the Fifth Army front. In the Venafro-Pozzilli area German guns opened up with a thunderous bombardment Monday night reports from Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's headquarters disclosed. Concentrations of American batteries promptly laid down a highly-effective counter-fire knocking out some enemy batteries.

Weather Hinders Planes
Gen. Montgomery's headquarters reported "sharp skirmishes at many points" on the Eighth Army front but failed to specify the exact points of this fighting.

The story weather which curbed ground operations also put

City Is Isolated

The night blast followed daylight attacks on France in which American Marauders hit at St. Omer and Berck Sur Mer while RAF planes bombed targets in the Pas-De-Calais area without meeting fighter opposition. Two Marauders were reported missing.

The German capital was isolated from the world today by telephone and telegraph. Neither telephone calls nor telegrams were being accepted in Berlin this morning nor were Swedish correspondents able to telephone out of the city.

Because Berlin is the hub of Hitler-dominated Europe, communications with virtually the whole continent were affected. In Stockholm diplomatic representatives of legations bombed out in Berlin still were trying to contact their colleagues.

Second Successive Heavy Night Attack Rocks Reich Capital

Thousands of Fires in City Are Reported by Neutral Sources

London, Nov. 24—(AP)—The RAF hurled tons of destruction down on Berlin again last night, seeking for the second night in succession to knock out the German capital, much of it already devastated.

The force and weight of bombs dropped last night probably approached but did not exceed the record of Monday when over 2,300 long tons were delivered by approximately 1,000 bombers, nearly all of them four-engined giants. "Concentrated and effective," was the air ministry's description of the second great attack on the world's most-bombed capital.

Despite more favorable weather for the defense, the RAF lost only 20 planes in the second successive Berlin attack and simultaneous Mosquito attacks on western Germany, compared with 26 lost in comparable operations the night before.

Berlin already was chaotic from history's greatest aerial attack delivered only 24 hours before when the new deluge of allied bombs struck last night.

Walls of Flame in City

Berlin correspondents of Swedish newspapers said new fires and "walls of flame" more than half

Reprisal Threat

London, Nov. 24—(AP)—Germany now will use her "reprisal weapon" because "terror attacks" on Berlin and other German towns have grown to such proportions, a military spokesman told a foreign press conference in Berlin today, the Berlin radio announced.

The spokesman declined to disclose the nature of the "reprisal weapon" which he said Germany regretted she had been forced into using.

a mile long swept Berlin after the second attack.

The Stockholm newspaper Aftonbladet asserted fires started by incendiary bombs last night linked up with flames still burning from Monday night's attack.

Stockholm's Allehanda estimated 25,000 persons were killed in the first attack. It added the center of Berlin again was the main target last night and railway stations, gas and water mains suffered heavily.

Monday night's attack, which was reported to have set afire or wrecked the homes of Adolf Hitler, Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, and Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels, made Berlin the world's most bombed capital. The raid brought the bomb tonnage dropped on Berlin so far this year to about 10,000 long tons.

The night blast followed daylight attacks on France in which American Marauders hit at St. Omer and Berck Sur Mer while RAF planes bombed targets in the Pas-De-Calais area without meeting fighter opposition. Two Marauders were reported missing.

The German capital was isolated from the world today by telephone and telegraph. Neither telephone calls nor telegrams were being accepted in Berlin this morning nor were Swedish correspondents able to telephone out of the city.

Because Berlin is the hub of Hitler-dominated Europe, communications with virtually the whole continent were affected. In Stockholm diplomatic representatives of legations bombed out in Berlin still were trying to contact their colleagues.

The impact of the paralyzing attacks on the German capital made it clear that wholly aside from physical damage to either the administrative center or the large war industries in the suburbs, the new aerial drive bulked as the war's greatest offensive against enemy morale.

Fires Worst Horror

While the German high command communique acknowledged "new and heavy damage by fires" caused in last night's attack, the Stockholm Aftonbladet said the repeated concentrated bombing was virtually as big as Monday's.

Explosions of blockbusters rocked all sections of Berlin, the newspaper said, but fires provided the worst horror. Storm clouds of ashes swept through the streets and often there were terrific gusts

The members of the W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church met at the church parlors Wednesday afternoon for their regular meeting. The business meeting was held with Mrs. William Ramey, presiding, during the absence of the president, Mrs. Dale Rosenkrans. The program opened with song and psalm of thankfulness, and Mrs. Della Harper had charge of the devotionals. Mrs. Carl Rosenkrans gave a talk on "Congo Women" comparing their cannibalism, witch doctoring and superstitions to the modern methods. And due to the far-reaching effects of the teachings of the W. S. C. S., the old way of living is fast being replaced with the better and sanitary modes and their heathen practices with Christianized principles.

Mrs. C. J. Poltsch, secretary of supplies, gave her report and 120 quarts of fruit was sent to the Lake Bluff orphanage. Mrs. Floyd Nevins then read an article entitled "The Racial Price of Peace," Mrs. Frank Rogers, Mrs. Harley Thomas, Lucy Moore, Adeline and Minnie Barth were the hostesses and they served a dainty luncheon. The next meeting will be held Wednesday, Dec. 15 when election of officers will take place and Mrs. Ernest Carder and Miss Bertha Goble are on the nominating committee. All pledges for this society should be in before the date of this meeting. Everyone reported a pleasant afternoon and are urged to attend this next meeting.

Grange Members Meet

The members of the Grange met at the hall Friday evening for their regular meeting. That usual business meeting was held with the group electing the officers to serve during 1943-1944. The hostesses then served delicious refreshments, to complete a pleasant evening for all.

Those elected to serve were: Master, Charles Merriman; Overseer, Will Shaddick; lecturer, Mrs. Walter Stevens; steward, Lewis Shaddick; assistant steward, Bud Jacobs; chaplain, Mrs. Frank Parks; treasurer, Anna Miller; secretary, Frieda Shaddick; gatekeeper, Ralph Miller; Ceres, Lulu Merriman; Pomona, Mrs. Iran Kern; Flora, Mrs. Chas. Wright; executive committee for three years, Walter Stevens.

The next meeting will be held Friday evening, Dec. 3 and a 6-15 pot luck supper will be served. All are urged to attend.

Willing Workers

The members of the Willing Workers class of the Baptist church gathered at the church parlors Wednesday afternoon for their December meeting. This was their annual Thanksgiving 1:00 o'clock dinner and a fair number were on hand, Mrs. Lester Erlenbach and Mrs. Ione Foster planned the menu and a delicious dinner was served. The regular business meeting was then held with Mrs. John Mortimer having charge of the devotionals. Several of the sacrifice boxes were turned in and Mrs. Kenneth

L. Bielby gave a very interesting and inspiring talk to close the business session. A social time was then enjoyed with everyone reporting a pleasant afternoon.

Girls' Bridge Club

Mrs. Truman Breese entertained the members of the Girls' Bridge club at her home Tuesday evening. Mrs. Dee McLaughlin won high honors and Mrs. Gilbert Krenz received the consolation prize. The hostess then served delicious refreshments.

SNAPSHOT

After they departed, the proprietor missed $11 from his cash register.

He called police—then hurried to develop the film.

It was the first local case of officers said, in which a culprit had "mugged" himself.

Dixon Family Circles to Gather for Informal Thanksgiving Day Dinners

Traditional Holiday Dinners Will Be Held in Many Homes Throughout the City Tomorrow

Counting their blessings for the past year and giving thanks will be uppermost in the minds of everyone when they sit down to Thanksgiving dinner tomorrow with their families and friends.

Even though a holiday like this will be different during war time, it will be a day of gladness for many families who have service men and women at home this year. With gas rationing curtailing travel for families this year, there won't be nearly so many going away for Thanksgiving day dinner, but just the same there will be large gatherings for this festive occasion all over the land.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Marth and their daughter, Mary, will be going out-of-town this year to Savanna, Ill., for their Thanksgiving dinner, and will be the guests of Mrs. Marth's mother, Mrs. W. R. Fulrath. Mr. Marth will return after Thursday, but Mrs. Marth and her daughter will remain for a weekend visit in Savanna.

Mrs. H. U. Bardwell will be going to Barrington, Ill., where she will spend the holiday with her son, Attorney William Bardwell and his family. The John Charter family of Ashton, have invited the Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Moore to their home for Thanksgiving dinner with them.

Mrs. Alice Beede will be spending the holiday in Davenport, Ia., this year as the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Wyman. Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Landt will be going out-of-town too, they expect to spend Thursday with Dr. Landt's mother in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. William Remmers will have their son, Henry Remmers and his family, their daughter, Miss Inez Remmers of Rock Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hemmen and their daughter, Jeane, for their dinner planned for Thursday.

Dr. and Mrs. Warren Murray will be having guests for dinner at their home which will include Rev. and Mrs. Joseph C. Mason. The Elwin Wadsworths will be going to LaFayette, Ind., for their Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Mrs. Wadsworth's sister, and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ellsbery.

Captain Cal Tyler will be home for the holiday, and Mrs. Tyler is planning on guests including Mrs. E. N. Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Howell, Mrs. Beatrice Lanphier, and Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Ferguson.

At the Robert Shaw residence Mrs. Frank Galt of Sterling, grandmother of Mrs. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. John Dillon, their son and daughter, John and Elizabeth, Hunter Wood, Sterling, Miss Ann Eustace and Mrs. Eustace Shaw will be guests, and the George Shaws and Ben Shaws will be having their Thanksgiving together. Also dining with them will be Mr. and Mrs. David Koch of St. Paul, Minn., guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Shaw.

Mrs. C. R. Jenkins of Grand Detour will be having a large number for Thanksgiving dinner at her home. They will include Mr. and Mrs. Fred Garner, Mrs. R. E. Erickson, Mrs. Sadie Mack, John Nolf, Mrs. Mattie Leitz of LaGrange, Mr. and Mrs. Medrick Hussey and Donald Hussey of Franklin Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Zarger, Miss Belle Woodbridge, Mrs. Nina Todd, guest of Mrs. Jenkins, from Albany, N. Y., and Miss Nancy Woodbridge.

Dr. and Mrs. Donald Hansen (Norma Crawford) will return from their honeymoon in time to leave with Mrs. Hansen's mother and grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Crawford and Mrs. Frank Bender for Polo, where they will be guests for Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Mrs. Thad Beck. Dr. Hansen's mother, Mrs. Henry Hansen of Glendale, Calif., will come out from Chicago, where she has been visiting, to Dixon, and will also go to Polo for the dinner.

The Isadore Eichlers will be spending the holiday with their son and daughter-in-law, the Edwin Eichlers, in Dundee, Ill. They will leave here with their young granddaughter, who has been visiting at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Shoaf and Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Lund and their families will be having dinner together Thursday. Attorney and Mrs. Gerald Jones will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cahill at Thanksgiving dinner. Miss Nellie Bresnehan will spend her holiday with Mrs. Tim Sullivan.

Mrs. John Cully will be in Solomons, Md., this year with her husband for the holiday, but their young son, John, will stay here with the Oliver Rogers, who will be dining with Mrs. Roger's mother, (Continued on Page 6)

GIRL SCOUTS OF LINCOLN SCHOOL ENTERTAIN AT TEA

Girl Scout Troop II, fifth and sixth grades of Lincoln school, entertained yesterday in the scout room at the school at a tea at which they did all their own cooking, serving and planning for the affair. This is part of a home project which will enable them to earn credits and become better acquainted with homemaking ideas.

Table decorations were exceptionally pretty with tall yellow tapers on either side of large bowls of bittersweet. Tea, sandwiches and cookies were served.

There were fifteen mothers present as guests, and also Miss Grace Ritson, executive secretary, Miss Gertrude Wilhelm, public health nurse, and Miss Esther Barton, principal of Lincoln school.

There are about 35 scout members in the fifth and sixth grades at Lincoln school, and also a Brownie troop, which is not so very old, that already has 24 members.

DINNER PARTY IS GIVEN IN HONOR OF MISS HINTZ

On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Clingman of 415 South Dixon avenue, entertained at dinner in honor of their niece, Miss Alice Hintz, who will celebrate her birthday anniversary on Friday. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hintz, Mr. and Mrs. Claire Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Schrock, Miss Stella Anderson, Raymond Hood, Misses Ann Affinito, Lila Kirk, Theda Emmole and Georgianna Kollas.

Each guest brought some of their baby pictures and these were shown with a pictograph, which proved to be most entertaining. Miss Hintz received many nice remembrances of the occasion.

Dixon Woman's Club Will Hear Dr. W. Murray

On Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Loveland Community House, members of the Dixon Woman's club will have an opportunity to learn some interesting things about a "community" which is nearby. Dr. Warren G. Murray, managing officer of the Dixon State hospital, will tell the group something about the work at the institution. The program will be under the direction of the public welfare committee whose chairman is Mrs. R. J. Finley.

Dr. Murray has been associated with the State hospital for 23 years and has been superintendent for the last 20 years. Previous to that he had eight years in institutional work at Kankakee and Jacksonville where he made special studies of mental cases.

His student days were spent at Ohio university and his internship at Springfield, Ohio. Besides this he spent a year studying abroad at Vienna. For four years after this he did regular medical practice in Springfield, Ill.

He plans to give the women an insight into the special and individualized instruction and help which is given to the different types of patients at the colony. Aside from any medical aid which can be given, the inmates are trained in the three special fields of recreation, occupation and education.

Mrs. Elsie Marcellus who is in charge of the occupational therapy work at the institution will bring an exhibit of some of the work which the different groups do and will explain some of the things which are being worked out in order to help different patients adjust themselves to their particular condition. In this way many of them need not be entirely dependent upon society for their support.

The other workers on Mrs. Finley's committee are Mrs. Earl Auman, Mrs. A. E. Marth, Miss Fannie Murphy, Mrs. Jo Van Meter and Mrs. N. W. Dietrich.

Dr. and Mrs. Murray will be guests of the committee at a luncheon at the Coffee House preceding the program.

Chairman of the hostess committee for Saturday afternoon is Mrs. Philip Reiley. Her assistants are Mrs. G. P. Powell, Mrs. I. B. Potter, Mrs. W. W. Shippert, Mrs. Harry Quick, Mrs. J. G. Ralston, Mrs. Helen L. Ransom, Mrs. Henry Reinhardt, Mrs. Curtis Rice, Miss Alice Richardson, Mrs. B. S. Schildberg, Mrs. Theo. Schildberg, Mrs. Vernon Schrock, Miss Edith Scott, Miss Myrtle Scott, Mrs. Theo. R. Seavey, Mrs. H. E. Senneff, Mrs. L. E. Sharpe, Mrs. A. E. Sheffield, Mrs. Frank Philpott, and Mrs. Edw. Schick.

CPL. L. BEVILACQUA HONORED AT DINNER

Mrs. Louis Bevilacqua entertained at dinner Sunday honoring her son, Cpl. Louis Bevilacqua, of Camp Beale, Calif. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. William LaFever and son Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Witzleb and daughters, Pamela and Victoria, of Dixon, and Florence Bevilacqua, who is taking cadet nurse's training at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital at Aurora.

WELCOME SON

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brook, in Hinsdale, a son, John Lord. Mrs. Brook is the former Jane Lord, daughter of Attorney and Mrs. John Lord of Hinsdale, and is making her home with them while her husband is in service.

John Lord Brook is a great-grandson of the late Mrs. Mary Lord of Dixon, and is the fifth child in the family to bear the name of John Lord.

87TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Ulrika Genz of Nelson had occasion for celebration yesterday for it was the date of her 87th birthday anniversary. She is making her home with Mrs. Charles White, her daughter, and her family in Nelson, and is very active.

Troubadette Chorus Style Show Is High Success at Loveland Community House

About 400 people gathered at the Loveland Community House last evening to witness one of the nicest events that has been on the social calendar this fall. The Loveland House was the setting for the fall style show presented by the Mildred Ryan shop under the sponsorship of the Troubadettes Chorus, which is directed by Mrs. E. M. Goodsell. Mayor William Slothower opened the show with a short speech.

House coats, robes, junior styles and sports clothes, dressy daytime frocks and formal evening clothes were shown by mannequins from the Ryan shop and also modeling the gowns were members of the Troubadettes. Sparkling jewelry from the Overstreet Jewelry company added to the gowns shown, and matching accessories and hats were shown from Kline's department store, and Cook's Flower shop furnished bouquets and corsages for the event.

The show sponsors entertained with several songs that were more than appreciated by the large audience. "Marching Along Together" and "God Bless America" were two of the songs they presented so beautifully. Another singer who was greatly enjoyed was Dean Johnson, baritone soloist from Polo, who sang "Shortening Bread." The Woman's trio of the Troubadettes gave the audience a treat when they presented "Carmena." The trio is made up of Mrs. Wilbur Schreiner, Mrs. Vada Seiler and Miss Irene Hubbard. Mrs. Lyle Prescott and Mrs. Walter Krug are Troubadette accompanists.

Mrs. Schreiner was a busy woman at last night's event for at this point she took over, in her charming manner, to announce the models. First Mrs. Kenneth Seiler modeled a blue flowered silk gown, Miss Hubbard followed her in a border print silk jersey. Mrs. George Leonard looked charming in a corded striped taffeta, and later in the program wore a red crepe and black sequin trimmed dress. This had a detachable pepelin for a two-piece effect, and she wore black jet earrings.

Mrs. Ray Miller had a brown and green print silk dress on and looked very pretty in a green crepe with black sequin flower, black hat and black earrings later in the program. Mabel Dirksen wore a quilted cotton robe, and then appeared in a black crepe ensemble, sequin trimmed, gold bracelet and earrings with green zircon.

Frances Drew wore a green and flowered print, Dorothy Nelson club blue flowered silk print, Pat Hilliard, white silk print, and Mrs. Harvey Hinkle wore an aqua bordered satin ensemble.

Junior styles were modeled by Beverly Nelles, Mary Lois Greenwood, Betty Barnhart, Judy Magnifici, Dorothy Nelson and Kathryn Hawks.

White jersey with white teddy bear coat lined in red was what Muriel Peterson chose to wear, and also a rock rose lapel pin and bracelet. Irene Hubbard followed her in a powder blue wool classic, brown hat and purse, and gold bracelet earrings. Gertrude Kirkpatrick modeled a two-piece gold wool dress, and wore a stunning heavy gold bracelet. Frances Drew wore beige.

The two-piece brown suit with brown velvet trim that Joan Ruben wore was accompanied by a brown chesterfield coat and a velvet Dutch bonnet. Mrs. Walter Krug had a white wool dress trimmed with shrimp color and green trim hat, green earrings and a bracelet. Mrs. H. U. Bardwell followed her and was wearing a black crepe dress with sequin trim, and gold costume jewelry. Irene Hubbard appeared in beige crepe, and again in a very pretty frock of black velvet trimmed with pink flowers.

Mrs. Oscar Witzleb wore lug- (Continued on Page 6)

RICHARD HELMS HAS BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Ralph Helms, 101 West Sixth street, recently entertained a group of boys and girls in honor of her son Richard's 15th birthday anniversary. Games were played for entertainment, and Richard received many nice gifts. Mrs. Helms and Miss Norma Lawrence served refreshments to Betty and Hubert Hoover, Joyce Howell, Betty Saver, Arlen Miller, Jim Sanders, Howard, Swegle, Howard Boler, Charlene Ortigsen, David Crawford, Roseann and Rachel Smith, Phyllis Portner and Jewel Whisenand.

HOLIDAY PLAY

Dixon state hospital patients have been enjoying a round of holiday festivities which will continue through the week and featured by a sumptuous Thanksgiving dinner Thursday. Last evening patients occupying cottages A-1 and B-1 presented an operetta, "The Plymouth Rock," at the recreation hall which was enjoyed by both patients and employees, with 68 patients being members of the cast and chorus. The annual Thanksgiving dinner will be served at noon tomorrow and in the evening a sound picture entertainment will be enjoyed. Friday, the playlet, "Tom Thumb's Wedding", will be presented by members of the children's village section of the institution.

SGT. BUSKER AND FAMILY LEAVE FOR CAMP PHILLIPS

M/S Vernon L. Busker, his wife and their daughter, Patty, left for Camp Phillips yesterday after spending a 10 day furlough at the home of Sgt. Busker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Busker. Sgt. Busker is an instructor in code at Camp Phillips.

Sunday afternoon callers at the Busker home were Mr. and Mrs. Jake Cordes, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cordes and two daughters, Mrs. C. Schoonhoven, all of Freeport; Mr. and Mrs. William Burfeindt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Busker and family and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Pittman and family.

On Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Zimmerman and family and Mrs. John A. Johnson of Freeport, came to visit at the Busker home. Mrs. Johnson is Sgt. Busker's grandmother.

DINNER GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ide, Jr., are entertaining at dinner this evening, Mr. and Mrs. George Shaw and Mr. and Mrs. David Koch of St. Paul, Minn., who are visiting at the Shaw home.

A Thought for Today

The Lord liveth; and blessed by my Rock, and let the God of my salvation be exalted.—Psalm 18:46.

God, from a beautiful necessity, is Love.
—Tupper.

Let Us Give Thanks

It is much easier this year than it was last year, or even in 1941, to enumerate blessings for which we should and do give heartfelt thanks.

The tide of war has turned. Everywhere, throughout the world, the United Nations are on the offensive. Africa has been recaptured. The Mediterranean is OUR sea. A third of Italy has been taken, and the Italian people now are our allies.

We control the airways and the waters that lie under them. We are bombing the stuffing out of Hitler's Europe, while he can launch only an occasional nuisance raid against Allied territory. We have the submarine menace pretty well licked, at least temporarily.

In the Pacific we have begun pressing the Japs back toward Tokyo. Our planes are destroying their planes in an almost unbelievable ratio of seven to one. It is becoming almost suicidal for Japanese shipping to venture near the war area.

Last year we had to prod ourselves, and needle our imaginations, to think up reasons for Thanksgiving. Actually, we had little more than was substantial than our traditional American cockiness, our foolish but comforting inner feeling that we are too great a nation to be beaten.

All that is changed. Now we see daylight ahead. We can even begin thinking in specific terms of a date for Victory—1944, if fortune is kind, for Germany, 1945 or 1946 for Japan.

The war isn't yet won. It isn't yet beyond losing. We have progressed thus far because we put almost everything we had into the war. We must continue giving everything.

Let us be thankful that, when the time came to give, we had what it is taking to save this world for free men and women and children.

Who Rehabilitated America?

Following the last war, the United States helped substantially in the rehabilitation of several European countries including, if we remember rightly, Austria which had been at war with us. Following this war we shall be expected to re-rehabilitate some of them—perhaps even Germany. At any rate, we are at it in Italy.

In that connection, what is now the United States once was a country without public utilities, sewers or waterworks, office buildings and even without cities worth the name. Who rehabilitated the thirteen colonies? To be more accurate who rehabilitated them? Who cleared the forests, built our highways, plowed the fields?

It has been intimated in some books that Europe did, through the investment of capital. True enough, in part. But the investments were expected to pay dividends, and they did. Furthermore it was the design of foreign investors to so arrange things as to keep up buying goods from Europe, and to prevent us from competing with European industry.

Who rehabilitated the United States after the Revolutionary war, the various Indian wars, the Civil war?

The Americans did it.

We know a lot of draft-age single men in the government service who would look mighty fine in a uniform

Why Was It Censored?

A former resident of Milan, Minn., now lives in Madagascar and receives the home town weekly newspaper, "The Standard." In a recent letter to relatives this subscriber mentioned that the first editorial in a certain issue was "entirely cut out by the censor."

Interested in seeing what it was he had written that did not get by the censor, the editor, Andrew Bromstad, referred to his files. This is what the censor decided should be eliminated:

WE MUST BE ON GUARD

Are we ready to scrap our present economic system known as capitalism? In America where it has been given the widest possible chance of development, it is admitted that the common ordinary man enjoys more comforts of life than any person in the same station of life in any other country on earth.

We are now at war to defend the freedoms that we enjoy under this system. But even now in our own government there are forces at work to deprive us of the advantages we have gained under the fundamental freedoms guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States.

A politically dominated industry and agriculture will necessitate the inclusion of all other activities. If this tendency to government domination is not arrested by an awakened public opinion we may find that the war we are now fighting for the preservation of democracy, has been fought in vain.

Overseas Okies

New York's Mayor La Guardia has proposed a new immigration policy for the coming days of peace. He thinks that, if we continue our "splendid course" of education, we shall soon give our citizens so much book learning that there will be practically no unskilled labor or farm labor left in the country. So he proposes importing such labor. And after they had done their jobs, "we could let them go back at the end of the season."

Mr. La Guardia's faith in the overnight miracles of our free school system seems a little startling in a country where illiteracy is a problem that is far from conquered. His confidence that education can elevate minds of all capacity to a level where lowly toil practically disappears is an assumption to be hoped for, but still open to question.

As for importing unskilled workers, it seems like transplanting the potential headache of migratory labor without curing. We hope that in the future the Okies of John Steinbeck's "Grapes of Wrath" will not reappear. But that does not guarantee that Mr. La Guardia's scheme would not involve disruption of the imported workers' lives at best, or that, at worst, it might not set the stage for economic problems of international rather than regional, proportions.

Carol, Democrat

The publicity buildup to convince the American public that former King Carol of Rumania is a clean, decent, capable, pro-democratic person, who should be invited to set up an anti-axis Free Rumanian government should be worth watching.

Nobody can take exception to the method being employed. It is all out in the open. A professional publicist has been retained to present Carol's case in the best possible light, in offset to what is described as "a story mostly chocked full of nazi lies."

Our immediate reaction is skeptical. We feel reasonably certain that the war can be won without Carol. Nevertheless, we are open to reason—not sentiment, not flubdubbery, but reasonable, logical facts.

pered, mutely, Drew—

Anything to forget, strike out, wound, hurt, stab . . . never mind who got in your way . . . After a while your own pain might dull, might cease to trouble. When it did you could afford to be kind to people again. But now you were armored in agony, you were encased in it, it didn't matter to you what happened to anyone else.

THE long summer slipped quietly toward autumn. Outwardly things were little changed. Jim had settled to his routine, he and David Hall worked together in complete amity and understanding. Almost every fine evening Nancy went out with Jim on his early calls and waited for him in his car. The car had a radio and she amused herself while he was gone. They would come home and raid the ice box. Sometimes Doctor Hall insisted on taking the early calls himself and giving Jim an opportunity to get off to the beach or the club with Nancy and her crowd.

Frank was a constant caller, dogged, determined. Emily, tired of battling him, went now and then to the club or beach with her, occasionally Jim and Nancy were with them. It looked to the rest of Cranberry like a very settled foursome. Even Elsie Millicent, she told her friend, "I've always preferred Nancy . . . but Emily's a nice girl and I've always liked her. Of course I would never stand in Frank's way. I'd like him to marry and settle down."

She added that she had a special place for Nancy in her heart because she had always reminded her of the little girl whom the Edgars had lost many years ago. "Emily is so serious," added Elsie, a large, vital woman, "and I'm serious enough as it is. Nancy's the sort of girl I need around that gloomy old house. However, it's up to Frank and I, I suppose, Emily. He told me that she had already refused him 11 times this summer. I simply cannot understand it. I was certain he was joking."

Black mark against Emily who dared to refuse an Edgar.

Fair Enough

by WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York—A number of young midshipmen from Columbia University who will be commissioned ensigns Wednesday received swords as awards of honor for special merit Monday afternoon in exercises which were a cap-siculed version of the more elaborate ceremonies of June week at Annapolis. They were all clean, handsome young men who might resent the rather patronizing name of kids, and all very earnest and idealistic in their responses to the complimentary remarks of the admirals and others who delivered the awards. One in particular, struck a note which seems to apply to the neighborhood troubles that have disturbed some of our cities of late. He recalled his high school days, not so long ago, and the slackness and indiscipline of youth, traced the change in himself personally which had been wrought by the Navy's training and reminded us that this was the generation which had now turned to and was beating the Germans and the Japs. More by the implication of his manner than in so many words he conveyed the thought that the individual citizen, in or out of the service, can help the United States and preserve the liberties which he is about to fight for by being careful not to throw cigarette butts on the floor. That, of course, is a figure of speech although it is one of the first lessons that a serviceman learns, and in the wider sense it means restraint and individual responsibility, the lack of which is the basic cause of many of our domestic troubles.

The condition can be traced back to much earlier beginnings, for we are a rough people, but the decline to a sharp dip back in the more turbulent days of the new deal when people were encouraged to believe that if for any reason they felt aggrieved or uncomfortable it would be all right to go into the streets and throw rocks, to pull the master switches in municipal power plants and otherwise terrorize communities, to sack manufacturing plants and beat over the head with tire irons and clubs anyone who resisted or even disagreed with them. This being done under taut permission of the federal government and usually with the submissive consent of local authorities imbued with the same idea, there grew among many of the people an assumption that that condition which is described by the political catch-phrase, under-privilege, relieves the self-pitying and individual of all normal responsibility for rough behavior. And by now it is almost law among us that any element of the population which breaks over is to be pitied, not punished, and placated with playgrounds, swimming pools, free doctors to mend those who are cut up in brawls, charming living quarters provided in large part by quieter and better citizens and some great public mothering institution to relieve them of the responsibility of caring for their own young.

Against the living and shining refutation offered by the lives of such men as Al Smith, Jim Farley and scores of other illustrious and useful Americans who were born poor and had to improve their playgrounds and games, the notion that poverty and lawlessness are identical or complementary still gains ground. The cure most commonly recommended for many ills that ail us is to make all the people well-to-do by some plan not yet formulated beyond the preamble expressing this pleasant intent. On the other hand there is abundant evidence in many conspicuous careers of rich men's sons and daughters that squalor exists in the penthouse.

Mussolini and Hitler of course preached and enforced discipline and the Communists live by a discipline equally rigid, although they deny it. Thus any suggestion that discipline be imposed on us is factored as un-American when the fact is that we have always used force, implied or active, to keep the peace among ourselves and are plagued now by a growing belief that this force was weakened or been repudiated utterly.

The truth is that our discipline is bad and the flippant, name-calling political manners brought in with the change of administration in 1933, the bear-baiting methods used on prominent individuals to make the crowd laugh are largely responsible. The individual has been taught that if he throws his cigarette butts on the floor, something called the government will pick them up. And, while the Navy and the Army, with their continuing tradition of honor, duty and country, have appealed to the pride and conscience of millions of servicemen, inspiring them to do right for the reward of inner satisfaction, the tendency among too many civilians has been just the other way.

Funerals

Local—

MRS. ZOE E. WILLEY

The funeral of Mrs. Zoe Ellen Willey, whose death Tuesday morning at her home, 314 North Galena avenue, was announced in Tuesday's Telegraph, will be held at 1:00 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Christian Alliance tabernacle, the pastor, the Rev. W. J. Martz, assisted by the Rev. B. B. Cartwright, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial will be in the Shelly cemetery near Shannon.

Suburban—

MRS. WILLIAM MILLER

(Telegraph Special Service)
Polo, Nov. 24.—The funeral of Mrs. William Miller, 80, former resident of Brookville, who passed away Monday at the home of Mrs. Floyd Shipman of Polo, where she had been residing, was held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Bracken funeral home. The Rev. Martin Kabele, pastor of the Lutheran church officiated, and burial was in Brookville cemetery.

The former Avella Garman, daughter of Lazetta and Henry Garman, was born July 16, 1863, in Brookville. She married William Miller 42 years ago, and he survives.

HENRY F. OTTEN

Oregon, Nov. 24.—Funeral services for Henry Frederick Otten, Jr., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Otten of Oregon, who died Sunday at Warmolts clinic, were held Monday at the Farrell funeral home.

The Rev. August Blobaum, pastor of the Paynes Point church, officiated and burial was in Paynes Point cemetery. The infant was born Thursday, Nov. 18.

KEITH HEWITT

Rochelle, Nov. 24.—Funeral services for Keith Hewitt, three-year-old Rochelle boy whose valiant six-week battle against nephros, an uncommon kidney disease, ended in death at 2:06 a. m. Tuesday at Rockford hospital, will be held at 3:30 p. m. Thursday at the Presbyterian church in Rochelle. The Rev. Frank A. Campbell, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Minonk, will officiate and burial will be in Lawnridge cemetery, Rochelle. Friends may call at the Dee Home for Funerals in Rochelle.

Almost daily injections of blood plasma were given in the unsuccessful attempt to stop the flow of albumen from his system. He was admitted to the hospital Oct. 11, following a brief illness at home.

After a month of hospital treatment, the attending physician said the boy was "holding his own and doing fair, but not making progress." Many Rochelle residents donated blood for use as plasma when it became known that the hospital's supply was being depleted by almost daily transfusions given the child.

His condition became critical last Saturday when complications developed.

Keith was born in Rochelle June 2, 1940, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey L. Hewitt.

Surviving, besides his parents, are a brother, Roger 12; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harmon G. Hewitt, Georgetown, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Snapp, also of Georgetown.

The boy's father, an employee of the California Packing corporation of Rochelle, formerly was superintendent of schools at Forrester and at one time served as secretary of Rochelle Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Hewitt was formerly the Dixon Telegraph's Rochelle reporter and circulation manager.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

Washington—Weakest bastion in Hitler's fortress is the Balkans. He has been moving reserves in there until now he has accumulated about 20 divisions (300,000 men). His capture now of the three islands north of Crete and Rhodes has reinforced the Aegean approaches to the mainland.

Pictures were sent out of Germany recently representing German army officers showing off some new concrete fortifications. The propaganda photos obviously were intended to make us believe Hitler has established works comparable to those erected in France and the lowlands, but obviously his preparations have fallen short of anything like the scale elsewhere.

But for us to invade, we must first have Rhodes and Crete, or be able to use Turkey (whose preparations for a declaration of war against Germany are supposed to hinge on our concentration of sufficient aircraft there to protect her cities).

In any reconsideration of our grand strategy, this sector is likely to receive primary attention.

Military men seldom consider it wise to storm the enemy head-on at his strongest point, and the reports concerning the formidable emplacements in certain sections of Norway, of the lowlands, and France including the southern Mediterranean shore, have been verified by thorough allied observation. The long line of communications we would have to maintain to the Balkans would make preparations for such an attack a long and difficult, but not impossible, job.

Even if our strategy aims the heaviest blow elsewhere, the current threat of attack on the Balkans may cause Hitler to weaken his forces at another rim of the fortress to a vulnerable extent.

Certainly he cannot count much on local troops in occupied countries.

Rumania's army numbers about 28 divisions (420,000 men), but about 12 of them have been used—and probably used up—in Russia. Some are now stationed in the Crimea.

Bulgaria's army numbers 15 to 17 divisions (240,000 men), but she has not declared war on Russia, and there is a question as to what her troops will do if we go in.

Nazi counter-attacks in the Kiev section showed surprising but not conclusive power. No doubt the Reds will continue with their advance eventually on that very sector, as well as following through their customary strategy of launching a new attack at another point in the long line whenever rebuffed—this time in the north, aimed at Riga.

Yet the nazis have surrendered surprisingly few prisoners in all this recent retreat, even in the south where the Russian attack precipitated what appeared to be an initial rout, the retreat has been surprisingly orderly. The Germans managed to cling to Krivo-Rog many days after territory on both sides had gone.

Consequently, the vague reports coming out of London lately indicating initial attempts by the nazis to negotiate for an armistice, have seemed weak and untrustworthy. One published report has indicated that certain German army officers approached the British in two neutral countries, advancing the idea of an armistice, but these officers plainly were without sufficient authority and probably not valid envoys of even a small group of the nazi army.

Thus, while the Russians will no doubt continue to advance, and the recent RAF raids on Berlin were but a forerunner of immediate great intensification of our air warfare, no one in official authority here pretends to know, or hazard a precise guess as to how soon in the next few months the break may be expected.

London is the fountain-head of both authentic and unauthentic inside information from Europe, mainly because the refugee governments are established there. The British have excellent contacts on the continent, but the sources of most of the printed rumors and "authoritative" reports are refugee officials.

CHAPTER XXI

WHEN they returned Frank had left and Emily was upstairs. Nancy came into her room, her cheeks bright with wind, her eyes heavy, her hair tumbled. She said, "I went out to Lawson on a call with Jim . . ."

Emily was brushing her hair with long, even strokes. She said, without comment:

"I saw you go."

Nancy looked at her with a strange, half-reluctant malice. She said:

"You sent Frank home early."

"I was tired."

"I heard him ask you to marry him."

Emily shrugged indifferently. She said, "He doesn't mean it. It's his way of being—flattering. I dare say he asks—everyone."

"He didn't ask me," said Nancy. "I would have jumped at the chance."

Emily laid down the hair brush. "I don't believe that, Nancy," she said.

"Why?"

"You don't love him."

"I like him," said Nancy. She perched on the edge of the bed and clasped her hands around her knees. "He's physically attractive to me. I like his background and his money and the things I could do with it. What more could I ask . . ."

"A great deal," her sister said. She looked with level eyes at the younger girl. "You have it in you," she said bluntly, "to love one man very much. That man isn't Frank. If you married him or any man whom you didn't love, you would be miserable." "See you," said Nancy, "don't judge me by yourself. I take it you refused the offer?"

"Naturally." "Poor mother," said Nancy. "She set her heart on my capturing Frank . . . but failing that it would be an equal feather in her cap if you did. Now, thanks to you, she loses out both ways."

Emily's firm red mouth straightened. She picked up the brush again and drew the stiff bristles through the cloudy dark hair.

NANCY slid off to bed. "Good night," she said, "and pleasant dreams . . ."

At the door she turned. "Don't get any high-minded notion," she warned, "about handing Frank over to me. I'm no longer interested . . . I've other plans."

The door closed behind her. Emily stared for a long moment at her own face in the mirror. She saw with detachment that her mouth was unsteady and that her eyes brimmed with tears. Nancy, she thought dully, whom she loved very much, had become her enemy. It isn't my fault, Emily thought, refusing to let the tears fall.

Other plans? Which included Jim? But Nancy wasn't the woman for Jim, she would hurt him, she would ruin him. She wouldn't, consciously, perhaps, but the damage would be done just the same. And there's nothing I can do, Emily thought, nothing.

Nothing anyone could do. Nancy tearing the snapshots of Drew Warner into fine pieces was thinking that, too. She thought, serves Emily right. If she wanted Jim Thompson why didn't she do something about it when they were in Boston together . . . ? I'm not sorry for her."

She wasn't sorry for anyone, except herself. Drew, she whis-

Washington By Peter Edson Telegraph Special Service

Price Administrator Chester Bowles has a new parable on the evils of subsidies, and it's on a par with the President's parable on the evils of taking "just a little cocaine" to enjoy the pleasures of "just a little inflation." The Bowles homily goes something like this:

"When you say you don't like subsidies, it's a good bit like saying you don't like iodine. But when it comes to a choice of using iodine (subsidies) or having an infected arm (inflation) you'll take the iodine."

We at OPA don't like subsidies any better than anyone else," Bowles goes on to explain. "And even if Congress gave us unlimited authority to use subsidies, we still wouldn't swallow the iodine."

The gov't made a slight underestimate in the number of checks the Treasury will have to write this year. Originally, the Treasury figured it would have to fill out only 198 million checks—yes, checks, not dollars—in shoveling the dough out of the till. To print up this many checks, the Bureau of Engraving got an appropriation of over half a million dollars, but because it was such a large order the government printers were able to get an extra 57 million checks, bringing the total up to 255 million checks for the same money. But even this won't be enough. Consequently, Bureau of Engraving has had to come back and ask Congress for another $252,000 so it could print up another 101 million checks.

ROAD BUILDERS' BATTLE

Harold Chin, the Chinese-American pilot for the Pan American-Chinese National Airways Corporation line that is now flying supplies over the Himalaya Mountains from India to China, has brought to the United States an almost incredible story on the speed with which the new Lido road is now being built to connect the two countries by-passing the old Jap-held Burma road. All records for road building in this part of the world are now being broken on this construction job, and a lot of the credit is given to a Japanese labor foreman whom the Americans call "Muddy Moe."

Reason for all the fast work on this project is that the American engineers are working on the India end of the road while the Japs, occupying northern Burma, are at work on the other end. The Americans have steam shovels, trucks, bulldozers and all the modern earth-moving machinery. Across the mountains, on their end of the road, the Japs use native coolie labor, carrying baskets of dirt on their heads, using hand tools, picks and shovels and are all but scratching out grades and a roadbed with their fingernails. But every morning, says Chin, Muddy Moe, the slave-driving foreman of the Jap construction, gets on the radio tuned to the wave-length used by the Americans, and gives them a pep talk. "Come on, you guys," he says in strongly Jap-accented Americanese. "Hurry it up. Get this road done so we can use it."

The American construction crews love it. The test will come, of course, in the battle to decide who uses whose road.

COLONEL SITS TIGHT

When Col. Bryan Houston, descendant of the original Sam, was lent by the Army Service Forces to the Office of Price Administration, he says he got letters from old friends, expressing high amusement that he should be stuck with the job of Deputy Administrator of OPA in charge of rationing, admittedly one of the toughest and most thankless assignments in Washington.

In his first week, Colonel Houston has been getting acquainted with his new job and his staff, housed in Washington's famous Temporary D building where so many OPA battles have been fought.

"I put in several years as a personnel man," confesses Colonel Houston, "and one thing I learned in personnel work is that I'm not a good judge of people."

For that reason Colonel Houston says he isn't making any changes in OPA personnel right away. "Everyone I've met," he says, "looks as though he could read and write." He'll let it go at that for a time.

Crippled Mute Is Held—
Ivan Schreiner, a crippled deaf mute hitch hiker from Chicago, was taken in custody yesterday afternoon by State Highway Officer Gilbert of Polo and was taken to the county jail to be held pending investigation. The sheriff's office was notified today that a representative of the Chicago Welfare Society would come to Dixon to return Schreiner to the city.

Rennick "Considering"—
Springfield, Ill., Nov. 24—(AP)—State Rep. Frederick W. Rennick (R-Buda) said today he was "considering" seeking the state senatorship held by the late Thomas P. Gunning of Princeton. Rennick has represented Bureau, Henry and Stark counties in the Illinois house for 21 years.

Tavern Wall Damaged—
The Ed Burke tavern on Highland avenue and First street was damaged during the night when an automobile was driven into the Highland side of the building. The car crossed over the curb and sidewalk into the pebble dashed wall of the two-story building, the bumper tearing a hole in the side of the building and damaging some of the equipment on the inside of the tavern. The driver was able to back the machine away and the damage was not discovered until this morning when the tavern was opened.

Police Own Business—
In an effort to avoid price freezing by OPA Lee county restaurateurs have formed a committee which will police the business, check complaints of over-charging, etc. and will confer weekly with the Lee County War Price and Ration Board. The committee will endeavor to maintain friendly relations between owners or managers of all eating places in the county and will conduct monthly meetings of such at the court house.

Court Protects Press—
Tallahassee, Fla., Nov. 24—(AP)—The Florida Supreme court today ruled that a city of Tampa license tax against newspapers, based on volume of circulation, impaired freedom of the press. The Tampa Daily Times and the Tampa Tribune had joined in attacking an ordinance imposing annual license taxes ranging from $40 to $700. The newspapers claimed the ordinance was discriminatory and the tax was imposed without regard to any reasonable classification, as required by the constitution.

Check Your Fuel Oil With These Figures

Chicago, Nov. 24—(AP)—How's your fuel oil supply holding up? The regional Office of Price Administration today released figures to enable residents of Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, the Dakotas and Nebraska to determine whether their oil consumption to date has been at a rate which will insure that their ration will last the remainder of the season.
Consumption should not have exceeded the following percentages of total rations for the season in the following cities:
Area within 100-mile radius of Chicago, 14 per cent; Peoria and Springfield 13; Davenport, Ia., 14; Mason City, Ia., 15.
"These tabulations are the joint work of the weather bureau, weather experts of the fuel industry, and the OPA," said Raymond S. McKeough, regional OPA administrator. "The figures aren't mandatory, of course, but they are danger signals for anyone who finds he is using fuel oil at a greater rate."

Three Killed in Bus-Passenger Car Crash

Sacramento, Calif., Nov. 24—(AP)—One woman and two men were killed and 14 other passengers were injured shortly after midnight today in the collision of a Greyhound bus and a passenger car near Roseville northeast of here on highway 99.
W. G. Heilbron, a Roseville photographer, said the bus, en route to Portland, Ore., rolled over after the crash, shearing off its top and spewing the passengers onto the highway.

Barricaded Gunman Holds 20 Officers at Bay Four Hours

Indianapolis, Nov. 24—(AP)—John Reese, Jr., 29, barricaded in his home, waged a four-hour sniping gunfight with about 20 police officers last night until he was shot three times after wounding four of the officers.
The fight began about 5 p. m. yesterday when state police and sheriff's men laid siege to a well-furnished home north of the city where Reese had locked himself in with his blind father and elderly mother.
State Police Lieutenant Ray J. Hinkle said Reese fired upon troopers who went to investigate a report that he had been molesting a neighbor woman about an hour earlier. Hinkle said that Reese, armed, told the women he had bought her house and was dispossessing her.

Officer Helpless
Deputy Sheriff Lonnie Grimes was struck in the hip with a bullet from Reese's 22 caliber rifle, Hinkle reported. Helpless, he lay for an hour in an open area covered by Reese's fire.
Sheriff Otto Pettit, after watching deputies who tried to rescue Grimes sniped at from an upstairs window by Reese, drove a police car to where the wounded man lay, pulled him into the car and drove out of range.

Patrolmen Jack Hester and Lawrence Broderick of the state police force were shot in the leg later and Detective Fred Morley in the arm as they stood in the shadow of the house pumping in tear gas.

REPRISAL EXECUTIONS
Madrid, Nov. 24—(AP)—Balkan dispatches reaching Spain by way of Italy reported today that the Istrian peninsula, which juts out from the Italian mainland into the northern end of the Adriatic sea, has witnessed the execution of more than 300 Yugoslav partisans and German soldiers recently in a bloody duel of reprisals.

The reprisals began three weeks ago, according to the Balkan dispatches, when German military authorities executed three Croatian hostages after Partisans had dynamited the Trieste-Pisino railroad, killing a Nazi soldier.

The Partisans were said to have retaliated by executing an Italian fascist leader in Pisino and his two German soldier bodyguards.

A few days later the Nazis arrested 20 Partisan sympathizers in Trieste, lined them up against a wall and summarily shot them. When the Partisans learned of this wholesale reprisal, they were reported to have ambushed a party of 50 Germans traveling between Trieste and Pisino, selecting 40, including a German officer, and shot them as they stood beside a railway track.

One Man Killed in Half Million Dollar Fire in Idle Factory

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 24—(AP)—A half million dollar fire, towering at times 300 feet into the night sky, swept war-ide properties of the Berkey & Gay Furniture Company here early today and led one fireman to his death.
The spectacular blaze, which frightened guests from the adjacent Rowe hotel, destroyed two of the three Berkey & Gay buildings on the fringe of downtown which have been used for storage purposes since the war reduced furniture production.
Falling brick walls killed fireman Louis A. Coleman, 40, as he was manning a pumper truck and spread debris across the parallel Grand Trunk Western Railroad tracks so that train service was suspended temporarily.
A company spokesman said the loss would be at least $500,000 and might reach $800,000. Firemen and police were investigating to determine the cause.

American Casualties of War Total 121,319

Washington, Nov. 24—(AP)—Announced casualties in all armed services of the United States since Pearl Harbor total 121,319, with the Army bearing the greater share—89,650 as of November 11.
But the statistics show that of those killed in action there is a difference of only 42 between the Army and Navy, with the Navy having the larger loss—12,883 to date.
The Army's total of 89,650 listed 12,841 killed; 30,263 wounded; 23,954 missing and 22,592 prisoners following the RAF's 1,000 bomber assault on the Nazi capital, Monday night, eyewitnesses reaching Sweden said today.
The city yesterday was "still one big fire," one traveler said.
"The air ministry announced today that the RAF gave the crippled capital the heaviest 'heavy' raid last night."
"The heat was so terrible that it was almost impossible to walk or drive on some streets," another witness said. "I saw people collapse on the pavement from the intense heat."
A man who was eating in the Esplanade restaurant near Potsdamerplatz, when the alarm sounded at 7 p. m. Monday, said: "The first alarm was faint and no one intended to go to a shelter, but the restaurant owner came and told us we had to go."

In 10 Minutes

Richmond, Calif., Nov. 24—(AP)—Purely for fun, officials at Henry J. Kaiser's permanent shipyard "No. 4F" built, launched and delivered a sturdy and sea-worthy vessel, the U. S. Doodlebug, in just 10 minutes.
The Doodlebug is a flat-bottom skiff, eight feet from stern to stern.
The craft needed slight repairs right off. Her bow was bruised by the one-pint, champagne launching.

Russians Forced to that the decisive stage of the battle for the Ukraine had not yet been reached, the Red army continued to surge ahead on other sections of the front north and south of Kiev, particularly along the lower reaches of the Pripiet river.

Even as the house voted out subsidies for the second time, the price control setup was attacked on other fronts.

A house bloc mustered sufficient strength to force the issue on an attempt to remove oil and coal controls from the Office of Price Administration which has turned back numerous efforts to raise ceiling prices. The house group wants the two industries placed under Interior Secretary Ickes, who recently agreed to a boost in coal mine wages and long has fought for a higher crude oil price.

On the senate side dairy state members were ready to force a test on legislation which would boost the retail price of milk a cent a quart.

The arguments in both cases were identical, that prices should be allowed to "rise to their natural level at the market place".

Meanwhile badly mauled on the food subsidy issue, the administration's controverted anti-inflation program came up for another body blow today as the house rolled toward approval of a $2,140,000,000 new revenue bill—a figurative drop in the $10,500,000,000 bucket held out by the treasury.

Rep. Robert Lee Doughton, 80-year-old chairman of the powerful ways and means committee, led off a bi-partisan chorus against large tax increases, declaring they could be "more crushing" than inflation.

"Too heavy a tax burden is as great a danger to the nation's economy as is too large a public debt," he said.

"Certainly we should not pass on to future taxpayers many of whom will be our returning soldiers, debts that we ourselves should pay, but neither should we pass on to them a business structure so weakened by heavy taxes that it will be unable to carry on in the post war period. When this war has been won we want the business and industry of the nation in a condition which will enable it to offer the greatest measure of opportunity and employment."

of flames caused by the peculiar effect of big bomb blasts.

The explosions seemed to create a vacuum which was followed by a cyclonic wave of fire.

Fire fighters were unable to cope with their task and entire areas 10 to 12 blocks long were enveloped in flames this morning.

RAF fliers returning from last night's raid declared they "never saw such fires" as those raging in Berlin's streets.

"A THOUSAND FIRES"

On the Swiss-German Frontier, Nov. 24—(AP)—A neutral diplomat who lived through the allied bombing of Berlin Monday night described it to a correspondent of the Gazette de Lausanne as a "vision of the apocalypse" and said the German capital "is burning with a thousand fires."

The effect on the residents of Berlin was considerable, the diplomat continued, but "was not yet fully measured because 'many are still stupefied by the catastrophe'."

On all sides, he said, "there are bitter complaints at the passive defense which proved inefficient."

The newspaper's informant said Monday's raid was "much more impressive than the unforgettable attack March 1".

"Red clouds from which hot cinders incessantly rained weighed heavily on the city and related. Trucks and automobiles, secured in the streets gathering alibodies men to form first aid groups. Women and children formed chains to sprinkle windows and doors in an effort to check the spread of the fire. None closed an eye throughout the night in the Reich capital."

"From the first hour of dawn, enormous crowds began to move toward the hardest hit areas, but SS militiamen with gas masks on their faces barred the roads."

"The whole length of Leipzig street, one of the most-loved thoroughfares in the capital, was blazing. The presidential palace where Marshal von Hindenburg lived was destroyed as well as a great part of the foreign ministry."

EYEWITNESS ACCOUNTS

Stockholm, Nov. 24—(AP)—Berlin was an inferno of indescribable horror where even the asphalt on the pavements was boiling following the RAF's 1,000 bomber assault on the Nazi capital, Monday night, eyewitnesses reaching Sweden said today.

The city yesterday was "still one big fire," one traveler said.
"The air ministry announced today that the RAF gave the crippled capital the heaviest 'heavy' raid last night."

Senate Compromise

voted, 278 to 118, late yesterday to outlaw subsidies after the first of the year.

Senator Lucas (D-Ill.) an administration supporter, said "the end of subsidies will mean overnight inflation".

"Of course we will try to work out some sort of compromise," he added, but members of both parties conceded privately that only a presidential veto can keep the program alive, and even that might be overridden.

President Roosevelt, in a recent message to congress, declared the bulwark of the administration's fight to hold-the-line against inflation rested in the subsidy program through which government cash goes to food producers to keep retail prices down.

Landis at 77 Rides Herd Over Baseball Industry Honestly

Firing of Cox Second Big Action of Chief During This Year

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Chicago, Nov. 24.—(AP)—At an age when most men have retired to a life of quietude, leaving the affairs of business to those younger in years, the amazing 77-year-old Kenesaw Mountain Landis still is vigorously riding herd over the baseball industry.

Recently feeble rumors have been heard that perhaps the Commissioner of Baseball should retire, leaving the inference that younger blood may be needed.

But the crisp-speaking, 129-pound baseball chief still remains the symbol of integrity and honesty, keeping vigil over the industry's code, enforcing regulations with a mailed fist and with strict impartiality.

This has been a great, active year for Landis as he successfully guided the big business through a crisis imposed by the war. The Landis-Eastman line for spring training in the north was his first enterprising step, the firing of William D. Cox his second.

Three-Months Inquiry
Landis concluded a three-month investigation yesterday. It resulted in Cox, former president and director of the Philadelphia Phils, being barred from baseball for life for betting on games in which his club was involved. Although Landis previously had ousted players, broken up farm systems and, in general, ruled baseball with an iron hand during his 22-year tenure, this is the first time he dismissed a club owner or president.

Cox, a wealthy 34-year-old New York lumberman, bought the financially embarrassed Phils from the National League on Feb. 20.

Landis said that Cox first asserted that the allegations he had bet on games were "ridiculous," but later on Nov. 3 in New York had admitted placing "approximately 15-20 bets" of from $25 to $100 per game on Philadelphia to win.

Cox said he had quit wagering about May 20 when he learned of the rule prohibiting such betting by persons connected with the sport.

NEW MAN IN CHARGE

Philadelphia, Nov. 24.—(AP)—A young fellow who's "nuts about sports"—but who never saw a National League ball game until two years ago—sat down in the president's chair at the Phils' headquarters today and set about building a team "that will be up in this fighting and not just a doormat for the other National Leaguers."

In a manner reminiscent of his predecessor, William D. Cox, the new Phils head—six-foot, 28-year-old Robert R. M. Carpenter, Jr., youngest club president in major league history—already was deep in enough plans to keep a blue print factory working nights. "I've got to work fast," he said, "because I'm merely under a stay of induction from the Army and will be in there some time in January. So my first big job is to get a business manager for the club."

The 190-pound Wilmington, Del., sportsman—who admits he was a "heck of a good end" at Duke—has somebody in mind for the job but "I can't reveal his name until I see if I can get him."

Plans Farm System
Whoever it is, Carpenter means to put him in charge of the Phils' farm system. Oh, yes—the club's going to have one.

Carpenter was to confer later today with the present manager, Fred Fitzsimmons, Will F. Freddie, a Cox importation, continue as manager? "I haven't contemplated any change," the new boss said. Cox, ousted from organized baseball by Commissioner K. M. Landis, acknowledged that he made "some small and sentimental bets before learning it was against major league rules. 'I leave it to the public and my friends,' he said. "To decide whether I was wrong."

"My friends know I worked night and day to build up the team and its financial condition. Most of the money put into the club I put in myself. I now find that because I admitted backing my team with a few bets I have been banned from the game I love for the rest of my life."

BLACKOUT FASHIONS
London—Feminine ingenuity at last has hit on a way to overcome the inconveniences of clothing rationing.

A London drapery shop director has disclosed that many women have been buying ration-free materials intended for blackout curtains and are making them into coat linings, slips and underwear.

What's more, a Board of Trade official said, it seems that nothing can be done about it.

Bowling Bits

By "FRIDAY"

In the City league last night at the Recreation alleys 1100 Group rolled into first place by taking three from Ordnance, giving the former 19 wins against 14 losses. 1100 also set a new team game in their last effort with 1062. Burns was high bowler for the 1100 with 540 and Tirill had 524 to lead Ordnance.

Personnel Dept. another three-game winner over Central Stores, and took over second place, one game behind the leaders. Dillon had 598 to lead Personnel, the best series of the evening, and Johnson rolled 524 for the Central Stores.

By taking two from Production Coss Dairy made it a four-way tie for the next spot, one game behind Personnel, grouping Ordnance. Central Stores, Production and Coss with 17-16. Hackett led the way for the Milkmen with 541 and the Geidenberger rolled 450 for Production.

Pabst Blue Ribbon stayed one game behind this group by taking two from Controllers, with Lafever having 531 for Pabst and Taylor rolling 458 for Controllers.

High games last night were Ommen, 218; Tirill, 201; Baugh, 208; Dillon, 234; Hackett, 205; Lafever, 209.

In the GROF Women's league on the other shift at the Recreation, Production continued their winning ways by taking three from Personnel, increasing their lead to eight games, having only lost 7 out of their 33 tries. Kahly led the way for Production with 430 and Loneragan rolled 440 for Personnel.

Controllers rolled into a tie with Safety for the second spot with 18 won and 15 lost, when they won three from Fiscal. Shanahan shot 385 to lead Controllers and Stiger turned in 371 for Fiscal.

For their share of the second-place tie Safety took two from Purchasing with Stiger rolling 352 for the former and Ventler having 418 for the Buyers.

Communications ended up one game behind Safety and Controllers, having 17-16, when they captured two from Procedures. For the latter E. Ventler had 477 and Maxey rolled 456 for the Communications.

No records were broken last night and the following high games were turned in: L. Ventler, 176; Maxey, 194; E. Ventler, 181; Loneragan, 171 and Kahly, 183.

In the Classic league tonight Boynton-Richards, the top-spotters with 20 wins against 10 losses, meet Chaffeurs Local, tied with Sunnybrook for second with 18-12. Sunnybrook draws Harmon, one game behind the second spot, tied with Hill Bros., at 17-13. Hill Bros. will meet United City. These four matches should make the fury around the Recreation tonight.

The ten high bowlers of the Classic league are:

John Smith	189
Joe Miller	187
John Lange	180
Lyle Fordham	179
F. Lessner	178
Lyle Melvin	176
Frank McLanahan	176
Al Wolfe	176
Wayne Weidman	175
O. Hopkins	175

In the City league there was one repeater that insists on staying in out of the cold another week. For the GROF women both of last week's entrants ran into tough luck last night. Kahly had a fine start with a chance to roll into the league's high series, stubbed her toe and ended up with a 91 game. Hahn had her low series largely on account of a 102 set.

Here's Last Fling at Picking Victors on Nations Fields

By ORLO ROBERTSON

New York, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Here we go for one last fling at trying to give you football winners with due thanks to the good luck charms that have brought us this far with an .811 average (233 winners/53 defeats, 10 ties.)

Thursday, Nov. 25.—

Texas-Texas A. & M.—The Southwest conference title and a Cotton Bowl bid is at stake. Both have perfect league records but the Longhorns were beaten by Southwestern (Texas) in a non-conference tilt and the Aggies had to settle for a scoreless tie with Texas Tech. By the eerie-moonie-mime-moe method, Texas.

Cornell - Pennsylvania—Bob O'dell to bow out in blaze of glory and lead the Quakers to victory, Penn.

Colgate-Brown—The Red Raiders from the Chenango Valley are not in the class with Army so look for the Bruins to bound from their defeat at the hands of the Cadets with Doc Savage showing the way in a high-scoring affair. Brown.

St. Mary's-Utah—A couple of weak sisters. On a hunch, St. Mary's.

Saturday, Nov. 27.—

Navy-Army—Anyway you look at it, this is a tough one. Each was beaten by Notre Dame, Army tied Penn, which Navy beat. With the belief that the Middies have the depth and the line power to stop Glenn Davis we give you Navy.

Georgia-Georgia Tech — Eddie Prokop to lead the Engineers right into the Sugar Bowl without much competition, Georgia Tech.

Notre Dame-Great Lakes — Can't see the Sailors stopping the Irish from completing their first unbeaten season since 1930.

Iowa - Pre-flight-Minnesota — Too bad for the Gophers.

Southern California-U. C. L. A. — Southern Calif. to repeat its early season triumph.

Sports Shorts

Rock Falls, Nov. 24.—Rock Falls high school eagles opened their season here last night by defeating an alumni team 35 to 32.

Bogott and Unger led Rock Falls in scoring with 10 points each while Corzett and Kyger starred for the alumni with 9 points each.

Forreston, Nov. 24.—Forreston hit the basket last night for 47 points against Stillman Valley's 23 in the Route 72 conference game, carrying on the work of its lightweights who won with a 19-14 chalk-up over their Valley opponents. Duitsman took honors for 12 of Forreston's points and Rhodes of Stillman Valley threw 10.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Loyola University of Chicago, for many years one of the Midwest's leaders in non-conference basketball competition, will not have a team this season, college officials have announced.

They said the decision, reached because of war conditions and transportation difficulties, applies only for the 1943-44 season.

The Ramblers in recent years have played heavy schedules, traveling to both coasts for contests, in addition to meeting Western conference teams.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The 1943 All-Star football game played for the first time at Dyche Stadium instead of at huge Soldier Field, realized the biggest profits in the 10-year history of the grid classic.

The Chicago Service Men's Center will receive a record donation of $66,557.85 from Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., sponsors of the game last Aug. 25 between the Washington Redskins, National League champions and the college All-Stars.

The previous biggest donation to charity was $43,409.92 in 1942. This year's increased profits was due to smaller operating expenses.

FATHER AND MOTHER JAILED
"There's too much of this stuff nowadays," said Judge Victor A. Kula in the Court of Domestic Relations yesterday as he sentenced two parents for neglecting their five children.

Edward Marcinkowski, 30 years old, was sentenced to serve six months in jail and his wife, Stella, 27, was sentenced to serve 30 days in the Bridewell. New City police testified they found the Marcinkowski children, their ages ranging from 2 to 7, lightly clothed in their unheated home at 1443 West 48th street Sunday night. Mrs. Marcinkowski had been away from home two days, police said, and Marcinkowski had been drinking all day.

—From the Chicago Tribune.

(The city of Dixon would do well to follow the above example. This is the plan that has put Chilton Iowa on the map as an outstanding example where there are no delinquent children.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Sammy Angott's brain trust has rejected plans to make Monday's Angott-Bobby Ruffin fight a 15-rounder, the winner to meet Beau Jack for the lightweight title. Sammy still is champion in more states than the Beau. . . . Col. Biff Jones and his staff have been checking every application for Army-Navy tickets with postal authorities to make sure they stay inside the ten-mile limit.

SLOW WHISTLE—

Hearing about that Oklahoma Aggies-Arkansas game last Friday, when 80 passes were thrown, Frank Bridges the football Dodgers' scout and assistant coach, admitted that they really pitch 'em in the southwest. . . . Frank recalled officiating that kind of a game in Oklahoma some years ago, and toward the end, when a pass came sailing down the field with no receiver in sight, the umpire became excited and jumped up to make a perfect catch. . . . "Then he really got confused," said Frank. "While he was

Grand Detour

Mrs. Nina Todd of Albany, N. Y., is here at present visiting Mrs. Mary Jenkins.

Amos Mosworth, the Misses Laura and Gracia Rogers and Bess Pankhurst of Dixon were calling on friends here recently.

Mrs. Peggy Sheller is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sawyer, also at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Rowles in Chicago.

Miss Evelyn Reed returned to her home on Tuesday after spending eight days in the Dixon hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Whitcombe and family of Dixon spent Sunday afternoon with the latter's mother, Mrs. Nancy Foxley.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lempey attended the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Wadsworth of Dixon on Sunday.

Mrs. Kora Reed was admitted to the Dixon hospital on Monday. Dr. John Holland of Chicago spoke before a full house at the Union church on Sunday evening.

Mrs. Irma Foxley and son went to Polo on Monday to spend a few days at the home of her parents. Chas. Dickenson of Mt. Morris called at the Alfred Parks home on Sunday.

Mrs. Orville Sem was shopping in Dixon Monday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. George Weyant of Dixon spent Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Wiles Sheller.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Christian had as dinner guests on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Christian of Rockford and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Fulrath of Clinton, Ia. The occasion was in honor of their son, Vernon's natal day.

"TALS"

Salt Lake City—The man appeared to be a friendly sort to the 3-year-old Bates youngster, who was alone at home. "Want to play football?" the stranger asked.

The child's parents returned after the man had departed—with a jar containing $13 in pennies, nickels and dimes. It was Christmas money saved by the Bates children.

YESTERDAY was "aspirin" day for the turkey editor, Grant Biddle, of the Dixon Telegraph. Imagine 170 entries and only one turkey, one goose and one chicken! True, there was a group of outstanding entries but even this group was much larger than the prize list. If you take a look at the displays in the window during the next day or two just think of the poor editor.

MISS GOLDIE GIGOUS, who won the first prize, really captures the meaning of "thanksgiving" in her entry. She has a miniature altar covered with a lovely blue above which hangs a picture of Christ. On this rest two candles with corn husk holders and a hymn book. The whole thing is surrounded by small shocks of corn in which are scattered turkeys and a pumpkin. Advancing toward this "thanksgiving" scene are two pilgrims about a foot and a half high.

WOULD that the whole world could spend tomorrow as these two pilgrims and walk with a heart of thankfulness rather than with a heart of hate as so many will tomorrow.

SECOND prize went to Mrs. Fannie Toland for her snow-covered pioneer scene. A small log cabin is the center of the "picture"—at one side is a covered wagon (which, by the way, "lauded" the correct puzzle answers to the office) and on the other side is an Indian tepee. In the snow covered yard stand tiny evergreens and turkeys—there is even the stump and a tiny hatchet which promises the feast to come!

MRS. HOWARD MURPHY combined the victory "V" with the turkey tradition to win third prize. A rooster is giving the clarion call announcing the contest. In front of this is a large "V" covered with turkey stickers and in front of this is the little booklet containing the puzzle solutions. On either corner of the display in the front are two well-formed tiny pumpkins.

SEVERAL other entries just missed placing in the event and it was these which were so very close to the winners in their quality which gave Editor Biddle the headache!

"FREEDOM of the press" was the theme of an entry by Mrs. Myrtle Ruppert, 606 Willet, Dixon. A huge "V" covered with red, white and blue paper topped a little box also in patriotic colors. The box formed the background for a sign stressing the necessity of freedom of the press.

ANOTHER entry showed tiny metal soldiers and sailors standing on a box and flanked by the flags of many of the allied nations. These were arranged by Mrs. Marvin Rebuck, 917 Woodlawn avenue, Dixon. She also used the "V" in the background.

ANOTHER unusual idea was submitted by Mrs. Francis E. Taber of Paw Paw. She made a little booklet out of cloth of different colors. Each "page" was carefully starched, ironed and cut out with pinkish shears. On each page were pasted little bright colored figures cut from advertisements of magazines. Beside these on each page the answers to the contest were typed directly on the cloth.

THERE were any number of beautifully made pamphlets containing the solutions in one way or another. These varied in elaborateness from those just having a cover to one sent in by Miss Mary Ann Wilhelm, Ashton, which had the answers sewed onto paper.

ALL in all, it was a great contest—it's just too bad that Editor Biddle couldn't enter the contest himself and come out with something for all his efforts—or maybe he did order an extra turkey for himself along with the prize fowl—who knows!

Splendid Musical
Over two hundred people gathered at the Church of the Brethren Sunday night for the union musical. Those present were not disappointed for the musical was very good. Each church furnished something for the program.

Burned to the Ground
The large farm house known as the Fred Johnson farm north of town burned to the ground Sunday noon. The origin of the fire is unknown. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Johnson are living on the farm. Mrs. Johnson returned Saturday from a visit with her mother and sister in Cottage Hill, Georgia. The house was completely burned to the ground. Most of the furniture and canned goods were saved.

A Good Play
"Leave to Mary", presented by the senior class Friday evening in the gymnasium, was a huge success. Under the direction of Miss Olive Rapp the cast gave a brilliant performance to a crowd of over 400.

The play centered about the family troubles of Mrs. Loomis (Betty McDevitt) and her neighbor, Mrs. Farris (Jackie Canode). Waldo Farris (Wayne Shaulis) was about to leave for the Navy and he felt like he wanted to be engaged to Beverly Loomis (Arlene Thompson). Beverly, however, was uninterested because she was busy planning her marriage to a para-trooper, Fred Finley (Ben Smith) who dropped from the sky into her back yard.

Waldo wrote Beverly a note proposing engagement and everybody read it—that is everybody but Beverly. Percy Loomis (Arlene Ives) finally won Waldo's affections and Beverly and Fred got married after much ado about finding a preacher, getting married by midnight so Fred could inherit $50,000, and Waldo's pretending to be the justice of the peace that married them.

Between the second and third act Arlene Ives on behalf of the senior class and cast presented Miss Rapp with two lovely gifts. Miss Rapp responded with thanks and acknowledgement of stage decorations.

ALL COMES OUT
Fort Ord, Calif.—Pfc. Andrew Sorrentino, member of an ordinance unit, carried on a fruitless search for his missing partial denture plate for a week.

Then it came back, uncleaned, in a neat package, with this notation from the laundry:
"Partial plate rejected."
